GEOGRAPHERS HEAR TALK ON BALKANS

Col. Nox McCain Lectures Before National Geographic Society in Masonic Temple.

PEOPLE ARE GREAT ON FIGHTING GAME

Politics Is the National Sport and Even Enters the Family Circle.

"Bulgaria and Serbia" was the title of an illustrated lecture given by Col. Nox McCain before the National Geographic Society, yesterday afternoon and night, Prof. Gannett, president of the society, introducing the speaker.

The lecturer said that the Balkan States had been for 2,000 years the battleground of Europe and that 800 years ago the Turks came and conquered. He said that this country was inhabited by a backward, ignorant, patient, and plodding people who are grave and long-suffering. Col. McCain did not touch on the present war, but confined himself to the people and incidents of human interest.

Showing a picture of the old fortress of Belgrade, Col. McCain said that it was in all European countries. The fortress is falling to pieces, said the speaker, as according to the Berlin treaty the northern frontier bordering on Austria was not permitted to be fortified. Belgrade, the capital of Serbia, according to the lecturer, has made greater progress than any city between the Balkans and the Balkans since it secured its freedom from the Turkish rule.

"Serbia is practically a country without art and its lack of art is entirely due to the lack of opportunity to cultivate the beautiful as an inspiring.

Fighting as Occupation.

Serbia's principal occupation has consisted in fighting the Turks leaving her little time for anything else. The Greek church is the official church in Serbia and Sunday is the great day in that country. There are three Sundays, but that does not interfere with business. Friday is the Mohammedan Sunday. Saturday is observed by the Jews, and Sunday by the Christians. The Turks throughout Serbia and Bulgaria have preserved their language as well as their religion.

Speaking of the children of these countries, the speaker said they were the most inquisitively curious little children ever seen in any part of the world. The cause is the desire for army officers and the better class of people, where they spend their leisure hours eating, drinking, and listening to music. "The peculiarity of the children in Belgrade where I lived," said the speaker, "was that as soon as the Hungarian band struck up, the price of beer doubled. One can get a full meal for ten cents. One of those meals, the larger part of which consisted of onions and sour milk, I dreamed I had been condemned for life to a wood and onion farm."

There are no aristocrats in Serbia, according to Col. McCain, who said, however, that if any woman deserved the right to vote, it was the Serbian woman, as she worked in the fields and everywhere, and swept the streets of the city.

Has No Aristocracy.

Serbia's main oddity among the nations of Europe, according to the speaker, is that she has no aristocracy, and no nation can show such a variety of national costumes. The Oriental express running from Paris to Constantinople is supposed to be the finest train service in Europe, but the speaker said it cannot even compare with the most ordinary Pullman on a most ordinary American line. If there is one land where women and children are worked to the limit, it is Serbia and Bulgaria.

Showing pictures of the mountainous country of Montenegro and its people, Col. McCain said that these people were regarded as the most honest people in Europe, that the speaker said it cannot even compare with the most ordinary Pullman on a most ordinary American line. If there is one land where women and children are worked to the limit, it is Serbia and Bulgaria.

Three Killed with As.

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—The dead bodies of William Wainman, his wife, and four-year-old child were found in their home today. All had been murdered with an as. The police believe that they were victims of the "Sacrifice Sect," to which they were reported to belong. Clementine Barnard, high priestess of the cult, who admitted taking eighteen human lives in prison at Lafayette, La., but she is believed to have knowledge of the killings here.

Vermont Avenue and H Street Elevations.

The new Arlington Hotel, designed by Hughson Hawley and to be erected by the Thompson-Hawley Company, will occupy the site of the old hotel, in Vermont Avenue, extending the whole length of the square between H and I Streets Northwest. The frontage on H Street is about seventy-five feet, but an old building carries the building back to a depth nearly equal to the Vermont Avenue frontage.

The new hotel will be eight stories high, built of stone to the top of the second story. The next four stories will be of brick and the top two stories of marble and terra cotta. The estimated cost of the structure is $700,000. Excavation for the foundations is now going on actively, and the foundations will be laid during the month of December, weather conditions permitting.

UNIVERSITY LEGACY.

Rev. Albert Osburn, registrar of American University, stated yesterday that officials of the university had received no other advice of the legacy to the university from the late Rev. David H. Carroll, D. D., than those contained in the press. It is not probable, Mr. Osburn said, that the university will receive the money or other property given, which is estimated to be worth about $400,000, within a year.

The trustees will decide whether the legacy is to be expended on buildings or on endowment, Mr. Osburn said. He stated that he had no idea what would be the use of the donation. The American University, he explained, is to be altogether a postgraduate school, the only one in the United States, and preparation for the opening have been made slowly made. The university has never attempted to have classes, which will not be organized until the institution is properly equipped to care for students. Many applications for admission have been made, however.

The university has a site of nearly 100 acres facing Massachusetts Avenue at the intersection of Nebraska Avenue Northwest. Two of its buildings have been erected, one of them having been completed.

HUHN FUNERAL MONDAY.

Services for Late Secretary of St. Joseph's Society.

Funeral services for William Huhn, for twenty years secretary of St. Joseph's Society, will be held at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Fifth Street Northwest, Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock. Members of St. Joseph's Society will serve as pallbearers.

Mr. Huhn is survived by his wife and a son, William Huhn, of South Washington, and daughter, Mrs. Anna E. Cooke, wife of Charles Cooke. He died at his home, 122 Third Street Northwest, last Thursday night, after a short illness.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C., November 22, 1912. With the exception of local rains or snow in the Upper Lake region, and local rain in the extreme South, the weather was generally clear and calm, with a few light showers in the afternoon and evening.

The winds from the New England and Middle Atlantic coasts will be moderate, with a few showers in the afternoon and evening. The weather will be generally clear and calm, with a few light showers in the afternoon and evening.

STATE RAILROAD MEN END MEETING

Convention Asks Congress to Instruct Rates to Care of Federal Commission.

The National Convention of Railway Commissioners completed its labors late yesterday afternoon, and adjourned to meet in Washington in October next year. One of the last acts of the convention was the adoption of resolutions asking Congress to authorize the Interstate Commerce Commission to prescribe what would be a just and reasonable general classification of freight rates.

Clifford Thorne, railway commissioner of Iowa, said that absolute power would be vested in the Interstate Commerce Commission in controlling rate classification if Congress would make such amendment to the Interstate Commerce law. The Senate has already passed such a resolution.

J. P. Watson, railway commissioner of Oklahoma, urged the adoption of a single telephone system throughout the United States. He said that it was manifestly a hardship upon subscribers to have two or three systems in one place, and that the value of service should be measured by a valuation of a telephone property and that 10 per cent should be allowed for depreciation.

In contrast with charges in the various cities of the United States, Mr. Watson said that in Oklahoma the corporation commission had required telephone companies to install residence phones at a rate of $15 a month and $2.50 in business houses. He severely scored the "influence" that certain companies claimed to have in obtaining unreasonable rates for telephone service. In Oklahoma, he said, the corporation commission has allowed a net dividend of 10 per cent.

One of the most interesting papers of the convention was that by Clyde B. Atchison, who discussed the subject of competing railroads to improve the condition of waiting rooms upon their lines. Mr. Atchison described the regulation waiting-room in the small town as a place of indescent, insanitary, and near the legal definition of a public nuisance. He said the railroads long ago abandoned the idea of maintaining such places in the larger cities, and he thought it was time for the country people to demand better service in the way of houses in which to wait for trains and better managements from station agents who preside over them. He said such stations were not seen in any other country, and they ought not to longer be tolerated in the United States.

Mr. Atchison thought that through the activity of the State railway commissions some improvement had been made, but he declared that it was only a beginning, and that the convention ought to take a positive stand in the matter. Mr. Atchison's paper was warmly applauded and formed the subject of a resolution which was unanimously passed.

CONVICTED FROM ARMY

Lieut. Armine W. Smith and Capt. Augustus H. Bishop Court-martialed and Dismissed.

Dismissal of two officers from the United States Army, following court-martial sentences approved by the President, were announced at the War Department yesterday. The officers dismissed from the service were Capt. Augustus H. Bishop, First Infantry, and Second Lieut. Armine W. Smith, Third Field Artillery.

Capt. Bishop was tried by court-martial at San Francisco, on charges of false certification of pay accounts, embezzlement, and desertion. He was convicted of falsifying his accounts, and of embezzlement, and was found guilty of absence without leave. Capt. Bishop was appointed to the army from civil life, July 1, 1906. He is a native of Delaware.

Lieut. Smith was convicted on charges of conduct unbecoming to an officer and of desertion. He was found guilty of desertion, and was dismissed from the service. He was born in Maryland and appointed from that State.

WAR DEPARTMENT ORDERS

U. S. FORCES TO AID WOUNDED MEXICANS ON BORDER

By direction of Acting Secretary of War Oliver, the United States will give food and medical attendance to sixteen wounded Mexicans at Columbus, N. M., who were wounded by the revolutionists in the taking of Palomares, Mexico, by rebel forces Thursday.

It is understood here that Gen. Salazar, the rebel leader, gave definite orders that all wounded, both Federal and rebel, should be sent across the line into American territory.

The American officer at Columbus, Maj. McDonald, wired yesterday afternoon that he had treated, nursed, and supplied the wounded Mexicans. Acting Secretary Oliver instructed Gen. Stuever, commanding the American forces on the border, to provide Maj. McDonald with everything he needed, and granting authority to him to feed the Mexicans.

This action was taken purely in the name of humanity, it was stated at the War Department yesterday afternoon.

Miss Taft's Car Here.

Miss Helen Taft's electric runabout, which she used at Beverly last summer, has arrived, and will be used by Miss Taft in Washington. The car is blue and bears the great seal of the United States. It bore a Massachusetts automobile license tag when it arrived, but yesterday a District of Columbia tag was gotten for it.
